Noted Alumnus Dies On June 11

Charles J. Bouchet, '87, formerly one of the oldest living alumni of Loyola College, died at Bon Secours Hospital on Saturday, June 11. He was 82 years of age at the time of his death.

An outstanding Loyola graduate, Mr. Bouchet was presented with the Carroll Medal at the 1944 graduation exercises. Mr. Bouchet was born in Baltimore on May 29, 1867, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Bouchet. He received his early education at St. John's Parochial School and at Loyola High School. He was graduated from Loyola College with an A.B. degree in 1887, and received his A.M. degree four years later.

Subsequently, he was awarded his LL. B. degree by the University of Maryland. Mr. Bouchet studied law in the office of Charles Bonaparte, Attorney General in the Cabinet of President Theodore Roosevelt.

The lawyer was a member of the Maryland State Legislature for four years. He had traveled through Europe six times, being received in a private audience twice by the late Pope Pius XI.

Mr. Bouchet was a member of numerous other social and civic or ganizations.

Mission Needs Used Texts

An appeal to Loyola students for used text books has been received from the Rev. J. E. Haggerty, S. J., Rector of the Ateneo de Cagayan Mission, Cagayan, Philippine Is-

The books are needed for the opening of the Philippine school year, which takes place July 1.

Books Listed

Among the requested texts the following are in use at Loyola: The Study of Poetry, by Connell; A.B.C. of Scholastic Philosophy, by Cotter; Virgil's Aeneid (in English), by Davidson; Persuasive Speech, by Donnelly; Political and Cultural History of Modern Europe, Vols. I and II, by Hayes; Odyssey (in English), by Homer; History of Education, by Kane; and Educational Psychology, by Kelley.

Also needed are any Spanish grammars and readers.

Subjects Taught In English

Fr. Haggerty noted that his mission, which is staffed by American Jesuits, is the only foreign mission in the world where English is the teaching medium for all subjects.

Any students desiring to contribute their used text books should turn them in to Mr. McElroy, at the Campus Shop.

Faculty Changes

Faculty changes at Loyola College were recently announced. A complete list of the changes in the College Faculty. including additions, will be published in the next issue of THE GREYHOUND.

Committee Chairmen Dr. William D. Hoyt, Emidio A. Bianco, and Stanley S. Stone meet to discuss the progress of their committees. The committees were appointed by the Student Council to study current College problems.

President's Latest Book Now In Second Printing

The first printing of Saint Among the Hurons, the latest book by the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., President of Loyola, was exhausted early this month, and a second printing is now in preparation.

Five thousand copies constituted the first printing, which was put on sale late in May. Selected by the Catholic Book of the Month Club, it was widely publicized and received very favorable criticism from the press.

Approximately 380 pages in length, with an artistic jacket, Saint Among the Hurons is the biography of St. Jean de Brebeuf, Jesuit missionary to the Hurons, who was martyred by the Iroquois on March 16, 1649.

Maps of the territory from Quebec to Detroit and from New York City to above the Ottawa River are included to help the reader in understanding the geography of Seventeenth Century North America.

There is also an insert map of the Huron country

The Second Of Seven

Saint Among the Hurons is the second of a planned series of seven books by Fr. Talbot concerning Catholic missionaries in North America during the Seventeenth Century.

His first book, Saint Among Savages, which was first published in 1935, and which has been subsequently printed in six editions, was a biography of the life of St. Isaac Jogues.

The five books still to be written are a biography of Champlain; one on the area around Quebec between 1650 and 1665; a study of the work of Pere Marquette; a story of Joseph Chihwatenhwa, one of Fr. ae Brebeuf's converts; and another on Chihwatenhwa's brother, Teondechoren.

Fr. Talbot's greatest aim in writing these books is that of "propagating devotion to the North American Martyrs and aiding in the missionary apostolate of our own times."

January '50 Class To Sponsor Shore Party Sunday, July 10

A shore party sponsored by the Jan, '50 Class will be held at the shore of J. Carroll Mueller, near Rocky Point, on Sunday, July 10.

The Party Committee, appointed at a class meeting last week, announced that all who plan to go will have to provide their own transportation and lunch. Liquid refreshments will be served at the shore.

Tickets for the party, which is either stag or drag, are 75 cents

July '49 Class To Hold Dinner

Commencing its Senior Week of social activity, the July '49 Class will hold a banquet at Haussner's Restaurant on Wednesday, July 13.

Chairman Medio Waldt, of the Banquet Committee, announced that a five-course dinner will be served, consisting in soup, carrots, peas, stringbeans, tenderloin steak, ice cream and coffee.

He added that at least 100 Seniors must attend to make the price of $3.50 per plate possible.

Senior Ball At Emerson

The Senior Ball will be held at the Hotel Emerson on Friday, July 22. Committee members have been instructed to have all preparations for the dance ready by July 1.

Samuel Phelps is Chairman of the Ball Committee.

Onting Also Planned

A Senior outing has also been planned. Robert Custer, who heads the Outing Committee, announced that it will take place sometime between the banquet and the ball.

Other members of the Senior Week Committee are J. William Eggleston, Robert DeLisle and John D. Hanzsche.

Pledge sheets have been given to all members of the July '49 Class to determine how many will attend the banquet and the ball.

July Senior Week Committee

J. William Eggleston, Robert DeLisle and John D. Hanzsche report on preparations for the July '49 Class Senior Weck. They plan to open Senior Weck with a banquet at Haussner's Restaurant on Wednesday, July 13.

Crowded Conditions

The Athletic Association has suggested to the Student Council that a new athletic field be constructed on the school property at the north-cast corner of Charles Street and Cold Spring Lane. The site was formerly intended for the new chapel, but is now tentatively planned for future use as a parking lot.

Such construction would be a great boon to the athletic facilities at Loyola since it would relieve the crowded conditions which prevail on the main athletic field. This condition is especially apparent during the spring sports season. There are, of course, many opinions which can be held concerning the new proposal; so it seems to be imperative that every student interested notify some Council member of his feelings. In this way a fair and advantageous decision will be facilitated.

Another Martyr

With the rest of the Christian world an eye is turned towards Czechoslovakia, where Archbishop Josef Beran awaits his inevitable subjection to the now-stereotyped procedure of religious hierarchical elimination employed by the Communists. It is difficult to say whether atrocities similar to the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty can be expected, but the Archbishop himself has wisely foreseen all eventualities by already denying any future confession

In any event the thinking, Godfearing man should be aware of another indication of Communist policy, and he should profit by the perfect example of these modern martyrs of truth.

- Loyalty Oath

Academic Freedom

During the past two weeks the daily papers have carried accounts of the reception accorded the University of California's decision to require loyalty oaths of its teachers. Outstanding educators have expressed mixed sentiments on this controversial issue.

Certainly, the first question to be considered is the constitutionality of such a measure. It does seem that a Marylander would be forced to endorse the legality of such a ruling in view of the recent adoption of the Ober Bill. If the procedure of the House Uu-American Activities Committee can be construed as just, then an institution of learning should have the right to restrict the members of its faculty to those who agree to take a loyalty oath.

The greatest objection to the move is the alleged threat to the often-mentioned "academic freedom." But in what does freedom consist? Is freedom the right to act as one feels regardless of the moral consideration of such an action? Or is freedom the right to act freely within the limits of moral rectitude? The latter definition seems to be the more adequate. Americans are free, but they dare uot destroy their neighbors' property.

It is true that such a definition appears to be foreign to a consideration of "academic freedom," but when the question of the promulgation of Communist doctrine is at hand, the definition is very pertinent. It cannot be contrary to true freedom for one to prevent the dissemination of a theory which is contrary to man's very nature and being. In the light of moral truth the action of the University of California appears just.

Perhaps more American educators will become conscious of the moral value of the subject matter of their courses.

The Critilog

by George Herman

With the rapid upswing of summer theatres during the hot season it is a wise thing to know what's best in the summer stock groups and how a few of them work.

Nearly every summer stock theatre has a theatre school combined with it. Unless this school is connected with a known University or an equally well known dramatic group, it is probably a fraud.

The teachers, who are frustrated actors and directors, line up several young men and women in the town who are star-struck and promise to teach them the stage business—for tuition fees, of course.

The curriculum quite frequently consists of a working knowledge of voice projection and a standing rule that when playing with a star one stands three feet from her. Young actors from these schools, impressed by encouragement from these frauds, inevitably consider themselves professional enough to crash Broadway. Unfortunately, they always return discouraged—but not without wasting time and money.

Lefty Reitz Inaugurates Spring Basketball System

by Gerry McCormick, Sports Editor

Showing that he will not waste any time resting on his laurels from last year, Coach Lefty Reitz has inaugurated a spring basketball training program. This step is designed to give him an early line on his material for next year, and thus save invaluable time at the beginning of the

This past season, it will be remembered, Loyola opened the campaign with a few kinks yet to be ironed out. The Greyhounds started the season rather slowly, but then closed with a very successful rush. Next year, however. the slow start may not materialize, thanks to this spring practice.

Baldwin Looks Good

One of the most promising rookies ever to enter Loyola, Mel Baldwin has been giving rise to much favorable comment in recent court workouts. Mel is fast, smart and has a terrific shooting eye, and if he can blend in well with the other players on the team, Loyola's offensive-minded squad will have a valuable

There will be a few new faces on the team next year with some new students trying out for the squad as well as the cream of last year's B Squad and Freshman teams.

Soccer Players Prove Versatile

It is interesting to see the surprisingly good showing which the varsity soccer players are making in other sports in the Intramural race. Although not as skillful in basketball and softball, for example, as they are in soccer, they have been winning quite a few games.

Some people, (mostly soccer players), feel that the reason for this is that the booters are just about the best-conditioned athletes there are. In support of their opinion they point out that they have to be in excellent shape to be able to run up and down a field so much larger than a basketball court or a softball diamond.

The Greyhound tennis aces, Jerry Laroque, Jim Lacy and Gene Nolan, are playing in the state's most select circles; they have been invited to play in a 16 team tournament at Elkridge. Laroque and Lacy will play together while Nolan will probably team with Bernie Schreiber from the University of Miami.

In the recent Green Spring Invitation Tournament. Gene Nolan and his partner scored the biggest upset of the tourney when they defeated Alex Keiles and Malcolm Fox. Jerry Laroque and Jim Lacy also performed well in this tournament until bowing to the second seeded Volk and Harvey combine.

Track Coach Bill McElroy announces that George Rodney has re-entered Loyola, and, along with Walt Smyth, will run in the coming Municipal Track Meet.

Alumni Bowling League Seeking New

At the Alumni Bowling League banquet it was decided to roll at the Plaza Bowling Alleys again next year. The league will resume in September. If any alumni are interested in joining the bowling league for the coming season, they should contact the new president of the league, Joseph A. Burns, 6107 Maylane Drive, or Dr. P. Edward Kaltenbach on the Loyola Campus.

The league would like to form one or more teams composed of the present students of Loyola, particularly from the clases of 1949 and 1950, most of whom will be alumni of Loyola before the close of the 1949-50 bowling season.

If any student is interested in joining the league for next year, he should contact Dr. Kaltenbach on the campus. Students are also encouraged to form teams from among their own classmates and enter the league.

Lacrosse Team Ends Most Successful Season

Lacrosse at long last has taken its rightful place as a major spring sport at Evergreen. Ever since the inception of the stick game at Loyola in the late thirties, the proposition of developing a successful team has been a losing one.

Often-times the material was there, but more often, the material was lacking. Then again it could have been the caliber of the Greyhounds' opponents. Anyhow, Loyola just couldn't win on a lacrosse field,

Softball League At Halfway Mark

The Intramural softball league has reached the halfway mark with no one team in a very commanding lead. The Socs appeared to have a good chance of remaining unbeaten, but they lost to the Lumps last Thursday.

There is a virtual four-way deadlock at this writing between the Lumps, Socs, Diz Kids and McDermott's All Stars.

One of the oddities produced was that of Frank Love pitching a nohit game and still losing. It seems there were unauthorized players on Love's team and the game was protested by the Tadpoles.

With many important games on tap the race should be fairly well decided in the near future.

and the records stand as mute testimony to that fact.

That is, until this past season.

For, on Wednesday, May 18, against Western Maryland, the Green and Grey, with an over-all log of 6 wins, against 3 losses, completed the most satisfactory season in the history of the game at Loyola, and it seems not unfitting then to look behind the scenes and see what made it a better-than-average

The strength of the team lay, not in a midfield with blinding speed, nor in an attack whose brilliant play over-shadowed the rest of the squad, but in an offense which was well distributed. When one of the men had a slow day, the slack was easily taken up and absorbed by the others, and as a result they worked together as a well-coordinated unit.

The Greyhounds played well all season, and if at any time they descended to mediocrity, possibly it could have been in the Williams game, or in the last quarter against Hopkins. However, spirit was high generally, and everyone concerned with this year's edition of Loyola lacrosse should feel justifiably proud.

by Andy O'Donnell

The Loyola College varsity tennis team has completed a season which can be termed as one of the best in Greyhound annals.

Copping the Mason-Dixon crown and establishing an overall record of 20 wins and two losses, the squad, coached by Vince Colimore, was not only tops in Mason-Dixon play, but also in state competition.

Seasoned Performers

Led by Captain Jerry Laroque who is playing his third season for Loyola, and Jim Lacy, competing in his fourth campaign, the team was a well balanced ensemble. Gene Nolan, another veteran of three seasons' play, added an extra punch to the veteran-studded lineup.

Ed Ward, playing in his second vear, newcomer Johnny Darrell, George Krug, Tom McDermott and Andy O'Donnell completed the roster of what proved to be the best team in the State.

Laroque Wins Crown

Jerry Laroque played in 22 contests, losing only two, and then climaxed this fine season by adding the State Collegiate Singles Crown to his collection of trophies.

Jim Lacy proved to be just as hot on the tennis court as he is on the basketball floor. Jim, undefeated in college singles for three years, compiled 21 wins and a single loss during the regular season's play. Jim was runner-up in the State Collegiate Singles Tournament.

Gene Nolan, playing in number three position, turned in one of his best seasons for Loyola.

Credit To Coach

Johnny Darrell, freshman star playing in number four spot, Ed Ward and George Krug completed the singles roster and all turned in very fine performances.

Much credit should be heaped on the shoulders of coach Vince Colimore. He proved to be tireless in his efforts and by his superb coaching helped bring to Loyola another Mason-Dixon Crown.

Guidance Group Establishing Records

The Vocational Guidance and Placement Bureau, under the direction of Henry L. Zerhusen and Patrick J. Coughlin, has recently distributed questionaires to the July '49 class to aid in determining their qualifications and employment preferences. The bureau is testing those persons desiring this service so that it can advise them in the choice of employment for which they are fitted.

The senior questionaire discussed training, previous experience and types of work preferred. It also listed schooling, previous jobs, service experience and future schooling desired.

For the past month Zerhusen and Coughlin have posted notices, which listed available positions, on the bulletin boards. In the future they hope to have top men visit Loyola and lecture to those interested on the field in which they specialize.

The bureau plans to test fully all persons graduating from Loyola. and it intends to aid Alumni who might have use for the service.

Graduation Address Given By Rector

The commencement address at Calvert Hall College graduation exercises on Sunday, June 12, was given by the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., President of Loyola College.

To Conduct Pilgrimage

Fr. Talbot will conduct a pilgrimage of the CYO of Baltimore on a tour of the Jesuit Martyrs' Shrine in Midland, Ontario, Canada, and the Shrine of the Jesuit Martyrs of North America at Auriesville, New York, between August 12 and August 21.

The CYO will conduct these tours for their members, and it has cordially invited any others who are interested to obtain tickets and make the pilgrimage.

Large Crowd Sees Musical

A record attendance marked the presentation of Shubert Alley, the Mask and Rapier Dramatic Society's spring production, which was staged at St. Ignatius' Hall on June 16, 17 and 18. The play was a musical comedy which told the story of young hopefuls attempting to gain a toehold on the ladder of Broadway success.

George Herman is the author of the play, which was well received by the audience during the threenight stand. Herman wrote the lyrics, score and book.

Rodney Stars

Thomas C. Rodney starred in the musical and sang many of the 23 songs which were included in the presentation. Some of the more outstanding numbers are: Lida, a tango; Dream Girl, a fox trot; Cathan, Cathan, an Irish ballad; and When I Walk With Jane.

Robert DeLisle, James Dietz and J. Jacque Gunning highlighted the production with solo performances. Robert Custer distinguished himself with his treatment of dialogue.

Uhlhorn Danees

Gerry Uhlhorn presented a unique "Shmoo" dance, and Jerry Kimmitt executed an unusual ballet.

Rev. Leo J. Monaghan, S. J., Moderator of the society, Robert S. Custer and George Herman handled the directing duties. James E. Bowen, William Houpt and Edwin T. Watson served as stage technicians. Howie France supervised the sale of tickets, as well as the publicity campaign.

The cast and stage crew attended a picnic at the shore home of William Volenick on Sunday, June 19. Over 40 actors and their dates spent the day swimming, playing ball and eating.

Student Forum:

Opinions Given On Cut Systems

What do you feel constitutes a fair and yet effective cut system?

Though there were a number of abuses committed under the old cut system, I believe that there should be some sort of system for excusing serious illness or death in the immediate family. A sickness could well cause a student to be absent for over a week and consequently cause him to fail for the term. ROBERT C. O'NEILL, July '49.

I prefer an unlimited cut system because I feel that if a person has enough interest in class, he will attend anyway. EDWARD SCHULTZ, July '50.

A free cut system. Let students attend classes as they please. Passing or failing is their responsibility. It has worked at other colleges and universities, so why not at Loyola? JAMES J. FOGARTY, January '50.

There should be no cut system at all, that is, cuts should be unlimited. If a student can attain a passing average without attending any classes at all, why shouldn't he be allowed to? This is especially true when the passing average is based on test averages. JOHN V. McMANUS, January '50.

I think we should adopt the cut system we had when I entered—1.5 times the number of times we had class per week. Under this system, excused cuts were also valid. WALTER R. WELZANT, July '50.

I am heartily in favor of an unlimited cut system. I believe that college men should be treated as men, not as children. This would put the burden of responsibility on the student. ROBERT S. CUSTER, July '49.
